Federal Register

Vol. 81, No. 197

Wednesday, October 12, 2016

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect, most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510.

The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each week.

BUREAU OF CONSUMER FINANCIAL PROTECTION

12 CFR Part 1005

Electronic Fund Transfers (Regulation E)

AGENCY: Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection.

ACTION: Final rule; correcting amendments.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (Bureau) is making certain clerical and non-substantive corrections to errors it has identified in Regulation E, which implements the Electronic Fund Transfer Act.

DATES: This correction is effective on November 14, 2016.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jane Raso, Counsel; Kristine M. Andreassen and Eric Goldberg, Senior Counsels, Office of Regulations, at (202) 435-7700.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Overview

Regulation E, which implements the Electronic Fund Transfer Act,¹ and the official interpretations to the regulation are codified in 12 CFR part 1005.² Regulation E provides comprehensive consumer protections for consumers using electronic fund transfer and remittance transfer systems. Current Regulation E inadvertently contains several errors, as described below. The Bureau is publishing this final rule to correct these errors. No substantive change is intended by the corrections herein.

² Subpart A of Regulation E was originally adopted as 12 CFR part 205 by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System but, upon transfer of authority in the Dodd-Frank Act to implement Regulation E to the Bureau, was renumbered as 12 CFR part 1005. 76 FR 81020 (Dec. 27, 2011).

Subpart A

Section 1005.7 Initial Disclosures. Section 1005.7(b)(11) in 12 CFR part 1005 cross-references the definition of an “automated teller machine operator” as defined in “§ 1005.16(a)(1).” This is a clerical error, as there is no such paragraph in § 1005.16. The definition of “automated teller machine operator” is set forth in § 1005.16(a). Accordingly, this final rule corrects the erroneous cross reference in § 1005.7(b)(11) by changing it from § 1005.16(a)(1) to § 1005.16(a).

Subpart B

Model form for error resolution and cancellation disclosures (short). Model Form A-37 in appendix A to part 1005 sets forth language about the rights of a remittance transfer sender regarding error resolution and cancellation. Pursuant to § 1005.31(b)(2)(vi), it should contain language that informs a sender that the sender can contact the State agency that licenses or charters a remittance transfer provider and the Bureau for questions or complaints about the remittance transfer provider.³ However, the model form that was adopted only included this language in part. To correct this clerical error, Model Form A-37 is amended so that it now contains the disclosure required by § 1005.31(b)(2)(vi) in its entirety. The Bureau notes that other model forms in subpart B that contain the statement required by § 1005.31(b)(2)(vi) accurately reflect the statement.

Official interpretation to § 1005.33(a) and (g). Section 1005.33(a)(1)(iv) provides that a remittance transfer provider’s failure to make funds available to a designated recipient by the date of availability disclosed to the sender is an error unless an exception applies. One such exception, set forth in § 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(D), is if the failure to make funds available is due to the sender having provided the remittance transfer provider with an incorrect account number for the designated recipient’s account and the remittance transfer provider has met the conditions set forth in § 1005.33(h). Comment 33(a)-9 explains the application of § 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(D). However, it erroneously cross-references § 1005.30(h)(2) when it should have crossed-referenced § 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(D). This final rule corrects this error by removing the erroneous cross reference to § 1005.30(h)(2) and replacing it with the correct cross reference to § 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(D). Additionally, comment 33(g)-1 contains a cross reference to the requirement set forth in the regulation that remittance transfer providers are subject to § 1005.13’s record retention requirements. However, instead of cross-referencing § 1005.33(g)(2), where this requirement resides, the comment cross-references § 1005.31(g)(2). This final rule corrects the erroneous cross reference in comment 33(g)-1 by changing it from § 1005.31(g)(2) to § 1005.33(g)(2).

Official interpretation to § 1005.36. Currently, there are two section headings in the commentary to § 1005.36 (Transfers Scheduled before the Date of Transfer). The existence of two separate headings for the commentary to § 1005.36 is a clerical error. Further, one of the headings is different from the heading of § 1005.36 in the regulatory text. This final rule removes the erroneous heading so that the heading that remains in the commentary to § 1005.36 has the same heading as the heading of § 1005.36 in the regulatory text. Additionally, this final rule moves the commentary set forth under the erroneous heading and places it under the remaining heading.

II. Basis for the Corrections

The Bureau is publishing this technical correction as a final rule that will be effective 30 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register. The Bureau finds that there is good cause to publish this final rule without seeking public comment. See 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3)(B). Public comment is unnecessary because the rule corrects inadvertent, clerical errors about which there is minimal, if any, basis for substantive disagreement.

List of Subjects in 12 CFR Part 1005

■ c. Under Section 1005.36—Transfers Scheduled before the Date of Transfer, paragraph 1 is added.

The revisions and additions read as follows:

Supplement I to Part 1005—Official Interpretations

* * * * *

Section 1005.33—Procedures for Resolving Errors33(a) Definition of Error

* * * * *

9. Account number or recipient institution identifier. For purposes of the exception in § 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(D), the terms account number and recipient institution identifier refer to alphanumeric account or institution identifiers other than names or addresses, such as account numbers, routing numbers, Canadian transit numbers, International Bank Account Numbers (IBANs), Business Identifier Codes (BICs) and other similar account or institution identifiers used to route a transaction. In addition and for purposes of this exception, the term designated recipient's account in § 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(D) refers to an asset account, regardless of whether it is a consumer asset account, established for any purpose and held by a bank, savings association, credit union, or equivalent institution. A designated recipient's account does not, however, include a credit card, prepaid card, or a virtual account held by an Internet-based or mobile telephone company that is not a bank, savings association, credit union or equivalent institution.

33(g) Error Resolution Standards and Recordkeeping Requirements

1. Record retention requirements. As noted in § 1005.33(g)(2), remittance transfer providers are subject to the record retention requirements under § 1005.13. Therefore, remittance transfer providers must retain documentation, including documentation related to error investigations, for a period of not less than two years from the date a notice of error was submitted to the provider or action was required to be taken by the provider. A remittance transfer provider need not maintain records of individual disclosures that it has provided to each sender; it need only retain evidence demonstrating that its procedures reasonably ensure the sender's receipt of required disclosures and documentation.

Section 1005.36—Transfers Scheduled Before the Date of Transfer

1. Applicability of subpart B. The requirements set forth in subpart B apply to remittance transfers subject to § 1005.36, to the extent that § 1005.36 does not modify those requirements. For example, the foreign language disclosure requirements in § 1005.31(g) and related commentary continue to apply to disclosures provided in accordance with § 1005.36(a)(2).

Revisions to the Export Administration Regulations (EAR): Control of Fire Control, Laser, Imaging, and Guidance Equipment the President Determines No Longer Warrant Control Under the United States Munitions List (USML)

AGENCY: Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule describes how articles the President determines no longer warrant control under Category XII (Fire Control, Laser, Imaging, and Guidance Equipment) of the United States Munitions List (USML) of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR) will be controlled under the Commerce Control List (CCL) of the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) by amending Export Control Classification Number (ECCN) 7A611 and creating new “600 series” ECCNs 7B611, 7D611, and 7E611. In addition, for certain dual-use infrared detection items, this final rule expands controls for certain software and technology, eliminates the use of some license exceptions, revises licensing policy, and expands license requirements for certain transactions involving military end users or foreign military commodities. This final rule also harmonizes provisions within the EAR by revising controls related to certain quartz rate sensors.

DATES: This rule is effective December 31, 2016.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For questions regarding the ECCNs included in this rule, contact Dennis Krepp, Office of National Security and Technology Transfer Controls, Bureau of Industry and Security, Telephone: 202–482–1309, Email:
