The information will also be provided to appropriate Departmental management officials regarding possible health, safety, or security risks.

The new routine uses permit the disclosure of information maintained in the system of records (other than records pertaining to alcohol and substance abuse which are subject to the more restrictive confidentiality constraints set forth at Title 42, United States Code, Section 290dd-2, and Title 42, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 2) to: (1) Department contractors providing services to the Program and their personnel who have a need for the records in the performance of their duties; (2) appropriate community officials regarding suspected child, spousal, or elder abuse; (3) any persons to the extent necessary to prevent an imminent or potential crime which directly threatens loss of life or serious bodily injury; (4) qualified personnel for the purpose of conducting scientific research, management audits, financial audits, or program evaluation; (5) appropriate Federal agencies in defending claims against the United States when the claim results from actions against an individual based upon the individual's behavior, or mental, or physical condition, or is alleged to have arisen because of activities of any Federal agency in connection with the individual, and; (6) the United States Enrichment Corporation to enable it to perform functions transferred to it from the Department.

This notice also deletes the routine uses listed for the system in the Department's complete compilation of Privacy Act system of records (47 Federal Register 14306, April 2, 1982) and later Federal Register re-publications.
