Land Disposal Program Flexibility Act of 1996—Surface Impoundment Study

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Request for comments.

SUMMARY: On March 26, 1996, the President signed the Land Disposal Program Flexibility Act of 1996. This statute overrules certain parts of the D.C. Circuit's opinion in Chemical Waste Management v. EPA, 976 F. 2d 2 (D.C. Cir. 1992), cert. denied 113 S.Ct. 1961 (1993) which relate to managing so-called decharacterized wastes—characteristic hazardous waste whose characteristic has been removed before land disposal—in centralized wastewater management systems regulated under the Clean Water Act (CWA) or the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA).

The subject of this Federal Register document is a related provision in the statute which requires that not later than five years after the date of enactment, EPA shall complete a study of potential risks to human health or the environment posed by managing these decharacterized hazardous wastes in either a) surface impoundments which are part of wastewater treatment systems whose ultimate discharge is regulated under the CWA, or b) Class I non-hazardous injection wells regulated under the SDWA.

EPA is seeking to develop more information in order to prepare the portion of the study dealing with surface impoundments. This Federal Register document has been prepared for industry representatives and environmental groups to clearly define the Agency's expectations in requesting draft methodologies that outline the conceptual design of the study, including how best to collect data, data quality assurance/quality control (QA/QC), risk assessment, and peer review. Concurrently, the Agency will develop a methodology to ensure that requirements of the legislation are satisfied and the conceptual design of the study is balanced with those of the commenters. Upon receipt of draft methodologies from commenters, the Agency will convene a workgroup to select an overall, scientifically defensible approach to address the requirements of the legislation. The selected methodology will then be subject to a peer review process conducted by a peer review panel set up by the Agency to provide oversight and QA/QC of the study.

DATES: Draft methodologies are requested by September 23, 1996.

ADDRESSES: To submit draft methodologies, the public must send an original and two copies to Docket Number F-96-PMWA-FFFFF, located at the RCRA Docket. The mailing address is: RCRA Information Center, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (5305G), 401 M Street, SW., Washington, DC 20460. The RCRA Information Center is located at 1235 Jefferson Davis Highway, First Floor, Arlington, Virginia. The RCRA Information Center is open for public inspection and copying of supporting information for RCRA rules from 9:00 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding Federal holidays. The public must make an appointment to review docket materials by calling (703) 603-9230. The public may copy a maximum of 100 pages from any regulatory document at no cost. Additional copies cost $0.15 per page.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For general information or to order paper copies of this Federal Register document, call the RCRA Hotline. Callers within the Washington Metropolitan Area must dial (703) 412-9810 or TDD (703) 412-3323 (hearing impaired). Long-distance callers may call 1-800-424-9346 or TDD 1-800-553-7672. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Paperless Office Effort

EPA is asking prospective commenters to voluntarily submit one additional copy of their comments on labeled personal computer diskettes in ASCII (TEXT) format or a word processing format that can be converted to ASCII (TEXT). It is essential to specify on the disk label the word processing software and version/edition as well as the commenter's name. This will allow EPA to convert the comments into one of the word processing formats utilized by the Agency. Please use mailing envelopes designed to physically protect the submitted diskettes. EPA emphasizes that submission of comments on diskettes is not mandatory, nor will it result in any advantage or disadvantage to any commenter. This expedited procedure is in conjunction with the Agency "Paperless Office" campaign. For further information on the submission of diskettes, contact Linda Martin of the Economics, Methods, and Risk Assessment Division at (703) 308-0499. This Federal Register Notice is available on the Internet System through EPA Public Access Server at gopher.epa.gov or through WWW.epa.gov. Request for Comments

On March 26, 1996, President Clinton signed into law the Land Disposal Program Flexibility Act of 1996. This legislation amends section 3004(g) of RCRA to overrule portions of the District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals' 1992 decision (Chemical Waste Management v. EPA, 976 F. 2d 2) dealing with the requirement to treat wastes that as generated exhibit a characteristic of hazardous waste, but
