

development and natural resource management at a conceptual level. The analysis of alternatives will evaluate consistency with authorizing legislation, project operations, and resource use objectives; economic benefits; and potential impacts to environmental and cultural resources. Recommendations for future project development and management will be made based on this analysis.

5. The Baltimore District is preparing a programmatic DEIS that will be integrated with the Master Plan. Potential effects of proposed projects to water quality, fish and wildlife, vegetation, cultural resources, aesthetics, recreation, and other resources will be investigated. If applicable, the DEIS will also apply guidelines issued by the Environmental Protection Agency under authority of Section 404 of the Clean Water Act of 1977 (Pub. L. 95-217).

6. The Baltimore District invites interested Federal, state, and local agencies and other interested organizations and parties to participate in this study. Agencies that will be involved in the DEIS process include, but are not limited to, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources, Maryland Historical Trust, West Virginia Department of Culture and History, North Branch Potomac River Task Force, and the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin. Coordination letters, study bulletins, notices, and workshops will be included as part of the public involvement program, as needed.

7. The DEIS is tentatively scheduled to be available for public review in March of 1997.

Reg. 25092) on the Final Environmental Impact Statement on a Proposed Nuclear Weapons Nonproliferation Policy Concerning Foreign Research Reactor Spent Nuclear Fuel (the Final EIS, DOE/EIS-218F of February 1996), to allow the United States to take title to spent nuclear fuel and target material from foreign research reactors located in countries with other-than-high-income economies, as defined in the Final EIS, at locations other than the port of entry into the United States.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The revision to the Record of Decision is effective July 22, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information on the DOE program for the management of foreign research reactor spent nuclear fuel or the Record of Decision, contact: Mr. David G. Huizenga, Associate Deputy Assistant Secretary for Nuclear Material and Facility Stabilization, Office of Environmental Management (EM-60), U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20585, (202) 586-5151. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

DOE, in consultation with the Department of State, issued the Final Environmental Impact Statement on a Proposed Nuclear Weapons Nonproliferation Policy Concerning Foreign Research Reactor Spent Nuclear Fuel (the Final EIS, DOE/EIS-218F) on February 16, 1996. The Record of Decision was issued on May 13, 1996, and was published in the Federal Register on May 17, 1996, (61 Fed. Reg.

25092). In the Final EIS, DOE and the Department of State considered the potential environmental impacts of a proposed policy to manage spent nuclear fuel and target material from foreign research reactors. After consideration of public comments submitted on the Draft EIS, and concerns expressed following issuance of the Final EIS, DOE, in consultation with the Department of State, decided to implement the proposed policy as identified in the Preferred Alternative contained in the Final EIS, subject to additional stipulations specified in Section VII of the Record of Decision.

II. Statement of Purpose

Subsequent to issuance of the Record of Decision on May 13, 1996, DOE, in consultation with the Department of State, determined that the need may arise during implementation of the policy for the United States to take title to spent nuclear fuel and target material from foreign research reactors located in countries with other-than-high-income economies at locations other than the port of entry into the United States.

Reason for the Revision: The point at which title to the spent nuclear fuel and target material transfers from the reactor operator to the United States has no effect on the physical processes that would take place under the acceptance policy, and thus would not have any effect on the potential impacts to the environment, workers, or the public. As a result, DOE, after consultation with the Department of State, concluded that the selection of the title transfer location could be made solely on programmatic considerations. At the time the Record of Decision was issued, DOE had not identified any advantage to the United States of taking title outside the United States. Therefore, the Record of Decision stated that transfer of title would occur when the foreign research reactor spent nuclear fuel and target material actually enters the land mass of the United States because that approach linked the transfer of title to an easily identifiable occurrence.

In the course of diplomatic discussions with Chile, Brazil, and Colombia, these foreign governments raised an important concern related to the location of the title transfer. Specifically, since the Department is seeking to include transportation casks from multiple South American countries on a single ocean-going vessel, a question has arisen regarding who would be liable for any potential damage when spent fuel from one country is in the territory of another during the shipment. Furthermore, DOE has been informed that shipowners
