FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

Farm Credit Administration Notice of History of the Former Jackson Farm Credit District

AGENCY: Farm Credit Administration.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Farm Credit Administration (FCA) is publishing a notice outlining the history of the former Jackson Farm Credit District and explains that the Federal Land Bank of Jackson (FLBJ) and the Federal Land Bank Association of Jackson (FLBAJ) were placed into receivership and that they no longer exist, that their charters have been canceled, that the institutions can no longer assert any claims, that the Receiver subsequently was discharged and released, and that all claims against the receivership are barred.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jane Virga, Senior Attorney, Office of General Counsel, Farm Credit Administration, McLean, Virginia 22102-5090, (703) 883-4071, TDD (703) 883-4444.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Like other lenders, the FLBJ and the FLBAJ sometimes did not record that borrowers had paid their mortgages in full. Former borrowers (and their successors) have been unable to obtain title insurance or convey property when the land records have indicated, incorrectly, that there was an outstanding mortgage on the property. Similar problems have also arisen for others that were associated with the FLBJ and FLBAJ. The Receiver for the FLBJ and the FLBAJ was discharged and released effective January 30, 1995, and can no longer provide clarification in such situations. Neither the FCA nor the Farm Credit Bank of Texas, which purchased the majority of the assets of the FLBJ and the FLBAJ, has the authority to provide relief to borrowers whose property was once mortgaged to the FLBJ and FLBAJ or to others affected by recordation problems involving those institutions. Therefore, the FCA is providing the following information in an effort to assist affected borrowers and others in resolving title and other recordation problems.

The Farm Credit Administration (FCA), a Federal agency established under the Farm Credit Act of 1971, as amended (Act), 12 U.S.C. 2001 et seq., regulates and examines a nationwide network of banks, associations, and related institutions chartered under the Act. The institutions of the Farm Credit System furnish credit and closely related services to farmers, ranchers, producers and harvesters of aquatic products, their cooperatives, and farm-related businesses.

Prior to July 1, 1988, the nation was geographically divided into 12 Farm Credit Districts. Traditionally, each District had one Federal Land Bank, which made long-term agricultural and rural housing loans through Federal land bank associations; one Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, which provided shorter term agricultural loans to eligible borrowers through production credit associations; and a Bank for Cooperatives.

The Federal Land Bank of New Orleans was the Federal Land Bank for one of the Farm Credit Districts prior to September 1, 1984. On September 1, 1984, the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans moved its headquarters from New Orleans, Louisiana, to Jackson, Mississippi, and changed its name to the Federal Land Bank of Jackson (FLBJ).

On May 20, 1988, the FCA determined that statutory grounds existed for the appointment of a receiver for the FLBJ and the Federal Land Bank Association of Jackson (FLBAJ), the Association through which the FLBJ extended long-term credit, under its authority in section 4.12 of the Act and 12 CFR 611.1156, and placed the FLBJ and FLBAJ into receivership. A receiver was appointed on the same date. See 53 FR 18812, May 20, 1988.

In 1989, the majority of the long-term loans held by the FLBJ were sold to the Farm Credit Bank of Texas. In June 1990, the Farm Credit System Banks, with the exception of the Farm Credit Bank of Spokane, purchased the remaining assets of the FLBJ.

On January 27, 1995, the FCA determined that all assets of the FLBJ and FLBAJ (including claims it could assert against others) and claims against the FLBJ and FLBAJ had been disposed of by the receiver in accordance with the provisions of FCA regulations and the written agreement by and between the receiver and the FCA. The FCA therefore ordered that, effective as of January 30, 1995, all claims of creditors, stockholders, holders of participation certificates and other equities, and any other persons and/or entities against the FLBJ and FLBAJ were forever and completely discharged and released. The FCA Board also provided that the commencement of any action, the employment of any process or any other act to collect, recover, or offset any such claims was barred. Finally, the charters of the FLBJ and FLBAJ were canceled. See 60 FR 7054, Feb. 6, 1995.

The authority to make long-term loans once exercised by the FLBJ is now exercised by the Farm Credit Bank of Texas. Short-term lending authority for the geographic area formerly served by the FLBJ is now exercised by AgFirst Farm Credit Bank. Neither of these institutions is the legal successor in interest to the FLBJ or FLBAJ. The corporate existences of the FLBJ and the FLBAJ were terminated effective January 30, 1995, with the termination of the receivership.

Dated: February 18, 1997.

Floyd Fithian,

Secretary, Farm Credit Administration Board.
