Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative Grants

AGENCY: Department of Education.

ACTION: Notice inviting State applications for new awards for fiscal year (FY) 1999 funds for Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative grants.

Note to Applicants: This notice is a complete application package. Together with the statute authorizing these grants, and the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR), this notice contains all of the information, application forms, and instructions needed to apply for a grant under this competition. These grants are authorized by Section 1202(c) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as amended by the Reading Excellence Act (REA) (enacted as Title VIII of the Labor-Health and Human Services-Education Appropriations Act, 1999 by Section 101(f) of Public Law 105-277, the Omnibus Appropriations Act for FY 1999).

Summary of Program: Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative grants are awarded to States for planning and implementing Statewide family literacy initiatives, consistent with the Even Start Family Literacy Program (Part B of Title I of the ESEA). The purpose of Even Start is to help break the cycle of poverty and illiteracy by improving the educational opportunities of the Nation's low-income families by integrating early childhood education, adult literacy or adult basic education, and parenting education into a unified family literacy program. These initiatives coordinate and, where appropriate, integrate existing Federal, State, and local literacy resources to strengthen and expand family literacy services in the State.

States must conduct Even Start Statewide family literacy initiative activities through a consortium that includes at least the following State-level programs:

- Title I of the ESEA, Part A (LEA grants);
- Even Start (Title I, Part B);
- Migrant Education Program (Title I, Part C);
- Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program (Title I, Part E, Section 1502);
- Head Start;
- Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; and
- All other State-funded preschool programs and State-funded programs providing literacy services to adults.

The State must include in its application a plan developed by the consortium to use a portion of the State's resources (monetary or non-monetary, or both) from one or more of the programs required to be in the consortium, to strengthen and expand family literacy services in the State. The consortium also may include other programs, such as programs for infants and toddlers with disabilities under Part C of the Individuals with Disabilities Act (IDEA), and programs for children with disabilities under Sections 611 and 619 of the IDEA.

The law specifically requires the programs listed above to be part of the consortium that conducts the initiative's activities. The law also requires the consortium to coordinate and integrate activities and resources from specified programs. Please note that these programs differ slightly from the State-level programs required to be part of the consortium.

The initiative must coordinate and integrate resources and activities from, at least, the following programs: Part A of Title I of the ESEA (LEA grants); Even Start (Title I, Part B); the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; Head Start; and the State's block grant under Part A of Title IV of the Social Security Act for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF). The law also requires the consortium to coordinate its activities with the activities of the reading and literacy partnership for the State established under Section 2253(d) of the REA if the State Educational Agency receives a reading and literacy grant under the REA. The consortium is encouraged to coordinate and integrate resources and appropriate activities from other programs as well, such as programs for infants and toddlers with disabilities and children with disabilities under the IDEA, and programs included in the consortium such as Migrant Education (Title I, Part C), Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration (Title I, Part E), and State-funded preschool and adult literacy programs.

Eligible Applicants: One State office or agency from each State, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

Deadline for Transmittal of Applications: States will have two opportunities to submit their applications under this competition for FY 1999 funds. Transmittal deadline for the first stage of applications: April 26, 1999. Transmittal deadline for the second stage of applications: August 20, 1999.

Deadline for Intergovernmental Review: First stage: April 30, 1999.

Second stage: September 3, 1999.

Applications Available: February 24, 1999.

Available Funds: $10,000,000.

Note: The Secretary intends to reserve about $328,000 from these funds to provide technical assistance to the Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative.

Matching and Use of Funds Requirements: A State receiving a grant for an Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative must make available non-Federal contributions (cash or in-kind) in an amount at least equal to the Federal funds awarded under the grant. These non-Federal contributions may be from State or local resources, or both. Grantees may not use these grant funds for indirect costs, either as a direct charge or as part of the matching requirement.

Estimated Range of Awards: $75,000–$250,000 for each of two years.

Estimated Average Size of Awards: $186,000 for 52 grants.

Estimated Number of Awards: 40–52.

Note: This Department is not bound by any estimates in this notice. The Secretary expects that the amount of available funds will be sufficient for all States with high-quality applications to receive awards. Funding for each stage of this competition will be based initially on the estimated average size of awards ($186,000) multiplied by the number of approved applicants (grantees) in each stage. If the sum total of the approved application budgets in either stage exceeds the total funding available for that stage of the competition, all of the budgets will be reduced proportionately. If there are remaining funds at the end of the second stage, each grantee's budget will be increased proportionately up to the amount of the approved budget.

Project Period: 24 months (comprised of two one-year budget periods).

Applicable Regulations: The Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) as follows:

- 34 CFR Part 75 (Direct Grant Programs).
- 34 CFR Part 77 (Definitions that Apply to Department Regulations).

- 34 CFR Part 79 (Intergovernmental Review of Department of Education Programs and Activities).

- 34 CFR Part 80 (Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Cooperative Agreements to State and Local Governments).

- 34 CFR Part 81 (General Education Provisions Act—Enforcement).

- 34 CFR Part 82 (New Restrictions on Lobbying).

- 34 CFR Part 85 (Governmentwide Debarment and Suspension (Nonprocurement) and Governmentwide Requirements for Drug-Free Workplace (Grants)).

Absolute Priority: The Secretary has published elsewhere in this issue of the Federal Register a notice of final priority, which establishes an absolute priority for applicants for these grants. The absolute priority is for any State applicant that includes in its application (1) indicators of program quality as described in Section 1210 of the ESEA (as amended by the Reading Excellence Act) that the State has developed for Even Start family literacy projects; or (2) a plan and timeline for the development of those indicators within a reasonable time period, not to exceed one year from the date of the grant award. The law requires States to base these program quality indicators on the best available research and evaluation data. Once developed, the law requires States to use the indicators in evaluating Even Start projects' program performance and improvement for the purpose of continued funding. The Secretary will fund under this competition only applicants that meet this priority (34 CFR 75.105(c)(3)).

Invitational Priorities: The Secretary is particularly interested in applications that meet one or more of the following invitational priorities. However, an application that meets an invitational priority does not receive competitive or absolute preference over other applications (34 CFR 75.105(c)(1)).

Invitational Priorities—Statewide family literacy initiatives that propose any or all of the following activities:

- Adopting and implementing recommendations and findings from the best available research on reading and literacy, such as the following: those reported in two publications by the National Research Council (NRC), Preventing Reading Difficulties in Young Children and NRC's practitioner's guide, Starting Out Right, A Guide to Promoting Children's Reading Success (National Academy Press, 1998) (www.nap.edu); reading research pertaining to persons with learning disabilities and limited English proficiency, such as Educating

Language-minority Children (www.nap.edu); and research reflected in the joint position statement by the National Association for the Education of Young Children and International Reading Association (www.naeyc.org/about/position/psread1.htm). Information on reading and literacy research is also available from the National Institute for Literacy (www.nifl.gov).

- Implementing a professional development plan, for staff working in family literacy programs, based upon the best available research on emerging literacy, language development, and reading instruction, especially for families who are limited English proficient, migrant or homeless and adults and children with disabilities.

- Strategies to increase the intensity of local family literacy activities for school-age children through seven years old through before- and after-school, weekend, and summer literacy activities, including family literacy activities for families who are limited English proficient, migrant or homeless and adults and children with disabilities.

- Strategies to strengthen local evaluations for Even Start family literacy projects (required by Section 1205(10) of the ESEA) so that those evaluations generate data that can be used for continuous improvement efforts, including improved literacy outcomes for adults and children.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This two-stage FY 1999 competition is designed to allow all interested States adequate time to submit high-quality applications, including States that have existing statewide family literacy plans and those that are developing those plans.

States that received Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative grants in the two previous competitions in 1996 and 1998 are eligible to apply under this competition. However, 1998 grant recipients must propose to use the funds under this competition for activities that are different than for which they are using their current Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative grant funds, which were awarded under a previous authority.

To receive a grant, the consortium established by a State must create a plan to use a portion of the State's resources (monetary or non-monetary), derived from one or more of the required programs in the consortium, to strengthen and expand the State's family literacy services. The law requires the consortium to include the following programs: Part A of Title I of the ESEA (LEA grants); Even Start (Title I, Part B); Migrant Education Program (Title I, Part C); Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program (Title I, Part E, Section 1502); Head Start; the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; and all other State-funded preschool programs and State-funded programs providing literacy services to adults. The State may include in the consortium other programs and resources as well, such as programs for infants and toddlers with disabilities and for children with disabilities under the IDEA. The programs that the law requires to be in the consortium differ slightly from the programs that the law requires the consortium to coordinate and integrate. The State, in forming its consortium and planning its coordination of activities and resources, may expand the two sets of programs so that they are identical, such as by adding the State-level TANF program to the consortium, and including all of the programs in the consortium in coordination and integration activities.

Two specific statutory definitions apply to these grants: "family literacy services" and "scientifically-based reading research." The law defines "family literacy services" as services provided to participants on a voluntary basis that are of sufficient intensity in terms of hours, and of sufficient duration, to make sustainable changes in a family, and that integrate all of the following activities:

- Interactive literacy activities between parents and their children.
- Training for parents regarding how to be the primary teacher for their children and full partners in their children's education.
- Parent literacy training that leads to economic self-sufficiency.
- An age-appropriate education to prepare children for success in school and life experiences. (Section 1202(e)(3) of the ESEA.)

In addition, Statewide family literacy initiatives that receive grant awards must base reading instruction on "scientifically-based reading research," as that term is defined in Section 2252 of the REA.

The Secretary will review applications on the basis of the absolute priority and the selection criteria included in this notice. All funded projects must meet the absolute priority. However, applicants have discretion in determining how best to address that priority. The absolute priority requires that States receiving these grants include in their applications indicators of program quality for Even Start family literacy projects, or a plan and timeline to develop those indicators within a reasonable period, not to exceed one year. These indicators of program quality, which States are required to develop under Section 1210 of the ESEA (Even Start), must be based upon the best available research and evaluation data. Once developed, the law requires States to use the indicators in evaluating Even Start projects' program performance and improvement for the purpose of continued funding. Even Start quality indicators will provide a measure of accountability to assess the extent to which overall program goals and objectives are being achieved and provide the basis for continuous improvement of local family literacy projects.

Indicators of Program Quality. Section 1210 of the ESEA requires these Even Start indicators of program quality to include:

(1) With respect to eligible participants in a program who are adult—

- achievement in the areas of reading, writing, English language acquisition, problem solving, and numeracy;
- receipt of a high school diploma or a general equivalency diploma;
- entry into a postsecondary school, job retraining program, or employment or career advancement, including the military; and
- such other indicators as the State may develop.

(2) With respect to eligible participants in a program who are children—

- improvement in ability to read on grade level or reading readiness;
- school attendance;
- grade retention and promotion; and
- such other indicators as the State may develop.

When developing specific State measures of performance for Even Start indicators for family literacy projects, States may wish to coordinate these quality indicators with the objectives and performance indicators in the Even Start Family Literacy Program Performance Plan that the Department has developed in accordance with the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA). The GPRA indicators, included with this application notice, have been approved by the Office of Management and Budget and shared with the Congress. GPRA indicators may be used to guide local family literacy projects in strengthening their local evaluations.

Selection Criteria:

The Secretary uses the following selection criteria to evaluate applications for grants under this competition. The word "project," as used in the selection criteria, refers for the purposes of this grant competition to the proposed Statewide family literacy initiative.

(1) The maximum composite score for all of these criteria is 100 points. To ensure the quality of funded submissions, applications must receive a total of at least 70 points to qualify for funding.

(2) The maximum score for each criterion is indicated in parentheses, and further divided between each subcriterion.

(a) Meeting the purposes of the authorizing statute. (10 points). The Secretary considers how well the project will meet the purpose of Section 1202(c) of the ESEA (Even Start Statewide family literacy initiative grants). In making this determination, the Secretary considers how well the project will enable the State to plan and implement a Statewide family literacy initiative that will strengthen and expand the State's family literacy services, and coordinate and integrate existing Federal, State, and local literacy resources, consistent with the purpose of the Even Start Family Literacy Program (Part B of Title I of the ESEA).

(Note: As required by Section 1202(c)(2) of the ESEA, the initiative must be conducted through a consortium that includes representatives from the following programs: Part A of Title I of the ESEA (LEA grants); Even Start (Title I, Part B), Migrant Education Program (Title I, Part C); Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program (Title I, Part E, Section 1502); Head Start; the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; and all other State-funded preschool programs and State-funded programs providing literacy services to adults. In addition, the State's application must include a plan developed by the consortium to use a portion of the State's resources (monetary or non-monetary) from one or more of those programs to strengthen and expand family literacy services in the State. The consortium also may include representatives from other programs, such as programs for infants and toddlers with disabilities and children with disabilities under the IDEA.)

(b) Need for project. (10 points). The Secretary considers the need for the proposed project. In determining the need for the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(i) The extent to which the proposed project will focus on serving or otherwise addressing the needs of low-income families. (5 points).

(Note: The Secretary invites applicants to describe any existing State initiatives that promote family literacy for families with economic and educational needs.)

(ii) The extent to which specific gaps or weaknesses in services, infrastructure, or opportunities have been identified and will be addressed by the proposed initiative, including the nature and magnitude of those gaps or weaknesses. (5 points).

(c) Significance. (20 points). The Secretary considers the significance of the proposed project. In determining the significance of the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(i) The likelihood that the proposed project will result in system change or improvement. (5 points).

(ii) The extent to which the proposed project is likely to build local capacity to provide, improve, or expand services that address the needs of the target population. (15 points).

(d) Quality of the project design. (20 points). The Secretary considers the quality of the design of the proposed project. In determining the quality of the design of the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(i) The extent to which the proposed project is part of a comprehensive effort to improve teaching and learning and support rigorous academic standards for students. (10 points).

(ii) The extent to which the proposed project will be coordinated with similar or related efforts, and with other appropriate community, State, and Federal resources. (10 points).

(Note: The proposed initiative must coordinate and, where appropriate, integrate existing Federal, State, and local literacy resources, consistent with the purpose of the Even Start Family Literacy Program (Part B of Title I of the ESEA). These must include resources, monetary or non-monetary, from the following programs: the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; Head Start; Part A of Title I of the ESEA (LEA Grants); Even Start (Title I, Part B), and the State's block grant for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) (Part A of Title IV of the Social Security Act). In addition, the consortium must coordinate its activities with the activities of the reading and literacy partnership for the State established under Section 2253(d) of the REA if the State Educational Agency receives a reading and literacy grant under the REA. The consortium is encouraged to coordinate and integrate resources and appropriate activities from other programs as well, such as programs for infants and toddlers with disabilities and children with disabilities under the IDEA and other programs represented in the consortium such as Migrant Education and Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration programs, and State-funded preschool and adult literacy programs.

Applicants may address this criteria in any way that is reasonable. In addressing an initiative's proposed coordination efforts, the Secretary encourages applicants to describe how the initiative will coordinate and ensure compatibility among (to the extent possible) the different performance indicators and standards being developed for literacy-related programs, such as the Even Start indicators of program quality required under Section 1210 of the ESEA and the absolute priority in this competition, the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act performance indicators required under Section 212 of that Act, and the Head Start quality performance standards required under Section 641A (a) of the Head Start Act.)

(e) Quality of project personnel. (10 points). The Secretary considers the quality of the personnel who will carry out the proposed project. (1) In determining the quality of project personnel, the Secretary considers the extent to which the applicant encourages applications for employment from persons who are members of groups that have traditionally been underrepresented based on race, color, national origin, gender, age, or disability. (2) In addition, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(i) The qualifications, including relevant training and experience, of key project personnel. (5 points).

(ii) The qualifications, including relevant training and experience, of project consultants or subcontractors. (5 points).

(f) Adequacy of resources. (10 points). The Secretary considers the adequacy of resources for the proposed project. In determining the adequacy of resources for the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(i) The relevance and demonstrated commitment of each partner in the proposed project to the implementation and success of the project. (5 points).

(Note: "Partner" in the context of this grant competition refers to the programs comprising the consortium that conducts the Statewide family literacy initiative activities. That consortium must include representatives from the following programs at the State level: Part A of Title I of ESEA (LEA grants); Even Start (Title I, Part B); Migrant Education (Title I, Part C); Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program (Title I, Part E, Section 1502); the Head Start Act; the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; and all other State-funded preschool programs and State-level programs providing literacy services to adults. The consortium must plan to use a portion of the State's resources (monetary or non-monetary), derived from one or more of those programs, to strengthen and expand family literacy services in the State. The consortium also may include representatives from other programs, and resources from those programs, such as programs for infants and toddlers with disabilities and for children with disabilities under the IDEA.)

(ii) The extent to which the costs are reasonable in relation to the objectives, design, and potential significance of the proposed project. (5 points).

(g) Quality of the management plan. (10 points). The Secretary considers the quality of the management plan for the proposed project. In determining the quality of the management plan for the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factor:

How the applicant will ensure that a diversity of perspectives are brought to bear in the operation of the proposed project, including those of parents, teachers, the business community, a variety of disciplinary and professional fields, recipients or beneficiaries of services, or others, as appropriate.

(h) Quality of project evaluation. (10 points). The Secretary considers the quality of the evaluation to be conducted of the proposed project. In determining the quality of the evaluation, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(i) The extent to which the methods of evaluation are thorough, feasible, and appropriate to the goals, objectives, and outcomes of the proposed project. (5 points).

(ii) The extent to which the methods of evaluation will provide performance feedback and permit periodic assessment of progress toward achieving intended outcomes. (5 points).

(Note: In accordance with 34 CFR 75.118 and 80.40 of EDGAR, grant recipients in this competition must submit an annual performance report at the end of the first budget period to the Secretary to support a continuation award, and a final performance report at the completion of the project. This is in contrast to former Even Start Statewide Family Literacy Initiative grants that were awarded through a single award cycle and required only a final performance report. Consistent with administrative practice, the Department will provide specific instructions on what information must be addressed in the annual performance report.)

7. Novice Applicant. Check "Yes" only if assistance is being requested under a program that gives special consideration to novice applicants and you meet the program requirements for novice applicants. By checking "Yes" the applicant certifies that it meets the novice applicant requirements specified by ED. Otherwise, check "No."
8. Type of Submission. Self-explanatory.
9. Executive Order 12372. Check "Yes" if the application is subject to review by Executive Order 12372. Also, please enter the month, date, and four (4) digit year (e.g., 12/12/2000). If your application is recommended/selected for funding, a follow-up certification of IRB approval from an official signing for the applicant organization must be sent to and received by the designated ED official within 30 days after a specific formal request from the designated ED official. If the applicant organization does not have on file with GPOS or OPRR an approved Assurance of Compliance that covers the proposed research activity, enter "None" in item 11b and skip 11c. In this case, the applicant organization, by the signature on the application, is declaring that it will comply with 34 CFR 97 within 30 days after a specific formal request from the designated ED official for the Assurance(s) and IRB certifications.

12. Project Title. Enter a brief descriptive title of the project. If more than one program is involved, you should append an explanation on a separate sheet. If appropriate (e.g., construction or real property projects), attach a map showing project location. For preapplications, use a separate sheet to provide a summary description of this project.

PROTECTION OF HUMAN SUBJECTS IN RESEARCH

(Attachment to ED 424)

I. Instructions to Applicants about the Narrative Information that Must be Provided if Research Activities Involving Human Subjects are Planned

If you marked item 11 on the application "Yes" and designated exemptions in 11a, (all research activities are exempt), provide sufficient information in the application to allow a determination that the designated exemptions are appropriate. Research involving human subjects that is exempt from the regulations is discussed under II.B. "Exemptions," below. The Narrative must be succinct. Provide this information in an "Item 11/Protection of Human Subjects Attachment" and insert this attachment immediately following the ED 424 face page.

If you marked "Yes" to item 11 on the face page, and designated no exemptions from the regulations (some or all of the research activities are nonexempt), address the following six points for each nonexempt activity. In addition, if research involving human subjects will take place at collaborating site(s) or other performance site(s), provide this information before discussing the six points. Although no specific page limitation applies to this section of the application, be succinct. Provide the six-point narrative and discussion of other performance sites in an "Item 11/Protection of Human Subjects Attachment" and insert this attachment immediately following the ED 424 face page.

(1) Provide a detailed description of the proposed involvement of human subjects. Describe the characteristics of the subject population, including their anticipated number, age range, and health status. Identify the criteria for inclusion or exclusion of any subpopulation. Explain the rationale for the involvement of special classes of subjects, such as children, children with disabilities, adults with disabilities, persons with mental disabilities, pregnant women, prisoners, institutionalized individuals, or others who are likely to be vulnerable.

(2) Identify the sources of research material obtained from individually identifiable living human subjects in the form of specimens, records, or data. Indicate whether the material or data will be obtained specifically for research purposes or whether use will be made of existing specimens, records, or data.

(3) Describe plans for the recruitment of subjects and the consent procedures to be followed. Include the circumstances under which consent will be sought and obtained, who will seek it, the nature of the information to be provided to prospective subjects, and the method of documenting consent. State if the Institutional Review Board (IRB) has authorized a modification or waiver of the elements of consent or the requirement for documentation of consent.

(4) Describe potential risks (physical, psychological, social, legal, or other) and assess their likelihood and seriousness. Where appropriate, describe alternative treatments and procedures that might be advantageous to the subjects.

(5) Describe the procedures for protecting against or minimizing potential risks, including risks to confidentiality, and assess their likely effectiveness. Where appropriate, discuss provisions for ensuring necessary medical or professional intervention in the event of adverse effects to the subjects. Also, where appropriate, describe the provisions for monitoring the data collected to ensure the safety of the subjects.

(6) Discuss why the risks to subjects are reasonable in relation to the anticipated benefits to subjects and in relation to the importance of the knowledge that may reasonably be expected to result.

II. Information on Research Activities Involving Human Subjects

A. Definitions.

A research activity involves human subjects if the activity is research, as defined in the Department's regulations, and the research activity will involve use of human subjects, as defined in the regulations.

—Is it a research activity?

The ED Regulations for the Protection of Human Subjects, Title 34, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 97, define research as "a systematic investigation, including research development, testing and evaluation, designed to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge." If an activity follows a deliberate plan whose purpose is to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge, such as

—Is it a human subject?

The regulations define human subject as “a living individual about whom an investigator (whether professional or student) conducting research obtains (1) data through intervention or interaction with the individual, or (2) identifiable private information.” (1) If an activity involves obtaining information about a living person by manipulating that person or that person's environment, as might occur when a new instructional technique is tested, or by communicating or interacting with the individual, as occurs with surveys and interviews, the definition of human subject is met. (2) If an activity involves obtaining private information about a living person in such a way that the information can be linked to that individual (the identity of the subject is or may be readily determined by the investigator or associated with the information), the definition of human subject is met. [Private information includes information about behavior that occurs in a context in which an individual can reasonably expect that no observation or recording is taking place, and information which has been provided for specific purposes by an individual and which the individual can reasonably expect will not be made public (for example, a school health record).]

B. Exemptions.

Research activities in which the only involvement of human subjects will be in one or more of the following six categories of exemptions are not covered by the regulations:

- (1) Research conducted in established or commonly accepted educational settings, involving normal educational practices, such as (a) research on regular and special education instructional strategies, or (b) research on the effectiveness of or the comparison among instructional techniques, curricula, or classroom management methods.
- (2) Research involving the use of educational tests (cognitive, diagnostic, aptitude, achievement), survey procedures, interview procedures or observation of public behavior, unless: (a) information obtained is recorded in such a manner that human subjects can be identified, directly or through identifiers linked to the subjects; and (b) any disclosure of the human subjects' responses outside the research could reasonably place the subjects at risk of criminal or civil liability or be damaging to the subjects' financial standing, employability, or reputation. If the subjects are children, this exemption applies only to research involving educational tests or observations of pub- lic behavior when the investigator(s) do not participate in the activities being observed. [Children are defined as persons who have not attained the legal age for consent to treatments or procedures involved in the research, under the applicable law or jurisdiction in which the research will be conducted.]

- (3) Research involving the use of educational tests (cognitive, diagnostic, aptitude, achievement), survey procedures, interview procedures or observation of public behavior that is not exempt under section (2) above, if the human subjects are elected or appointed public officials or candidates for public office; or federal statute(s) require(s) without exception that the confidentiality of the personally identifiable information will be maintained throughout the research and thereafter.

- (4) Research involving the collection or study of existing data, documents, records, pathological specimens, or diagnostic specimens, if these sources are publicly available or if the information is recorded by the investigator in a manner that subjects cannot be identified, directly or through identifiers linked to the subjects.

- (5) Research and demonstration projects which are conducted by or subject to the approval of department or agency heads, and which are designed to study, evaluate, or otherwise examine: (a) public benefit or service programs; (b) procedures for obtaining benefits or services under those programs; (c) possible changes in or alternatives to those programs or procedures; or (d) possible changes in methods or levels of payment for benefits or services under those programs.

- (6) Taste and food quality evaluation and consumer acceptance studies, (a) if wholesome foods without additives are consumed or (b) if a food is consumed that contains a food ingredient at or below the level and for a use found to be safe, or agricultural chemical or environmental contaminant at or below the level found to be safe, by the Food and Drug Administration or approved by the Environmental Protection Agency or the Food Safety and Inspection Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Copies of the Department of Education's Regulations for the Protection of Human Subjects, 34 CFR Part 97 and other pertinent materials on the protection of human subjects in research are available from the Grants Policy and Oversight Staff (GPOS) Office of the Chief Financial and Chief Information Officer, U.S. Department of Education, Washington, D.C., telephone: (202) 708-8263, and on the U.S. Department of Education's Protection of Human Subjects in Research Web Site at <http://ocfo.ed.gov/humansub.htm>.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PART III: APPLICATION NARRATIVE

Before preparing the Application Narrative, an applicant should read carefully the description of the program and the selection criteria the Secretary will use to evaluate applications for this grant competition.

The narrative must encompass each function or activity for which funds are being requested and must --

1. Begin with a one-page Abstract summarizing the proposed Statewide family literacy initiative;
2. Describe how the applicant meets the absolute priority;
3. Describe the proposed project in light of the selection criteria in the order in which the criteria are listed in this application package; and
4. Include the plan developed by the consortium established by the State to use a portion of the State's resources to strengthen and expand family literacy services in the State. The consortium must include representatives from the following State-level programs: Part A of Title I of the ESEA (LEA grants); Even Start (Title I, Part B); Migrant Education (Title I, Part C); Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program (Title I, Part E, Section 1502); Head Start; the Adult Education and Family Literacy Act; and all other State-funded preschool programs and State-funded programs providing literacy services to adults. States are encouraged to include in the plan —
  - A list of the programs that are part of the consortium;
  - A description of how the Statewide initiative will strengthen and expand family literacy services in the State;

- An assurance that the consortium has developed the State plan in consultation with all of the listed programs that will form the consortium and carry out the plan; and

6. Provide the following in response to the attached "Notice to all Applicants": (1) a reference to the portion of the application in which information appears as to how the applicant is addressing steps to promote equitable access and participation, or (2) a separate statement that contains that information.

7. For any applicant other than the State educational agency, include a copy of the signed set of assurances specified in section 14306(a) of the ESEA (20 U.S.C 8856(a)) that the applicant has filed with its SEA and that is applicable to this application.

The Secretary strongly requests the applicant to limit the Application Narrative to no more than 20 double-spaced, typed pages (on one side only). The Department has found that successful applications for similar programs generally meet this page limit.

NOTICE TO ALL APPLICANTS

Thank you for your interest in this program. The purpose of this enclosure is to inform you about a new provision in the Department of Education's General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) that applies to applicants for new grant awards under Department programs. This provision is section 427 of GEPA, enacted as part of the Improving America's Schools Act of 1994 (Pub. L. 103-382).

To Whom Does This Provision Apply?

Section 427 of GEPA affects applicants for new discretionary grant awards under this program. ALL APPLICANTS FOR NEW AWARDS MUST INCLUDE INFORMATION IN THEIR APPLICATIONS TO ADDRESS THIS NEW PROVISION IN ORDER TO RECEIVE FUNDING UNDER THIS PROGRAM.

What Does This Provision Require?

Section 427 requires each applicant for funds (other than an individual person) to include in its application a description of the steps the applicant proposes to take to ensure equitable access to, and participation in, its federally assisted program for students, teachers, and other program beneficiaries with special needs.

This section allows applicants discretion in developing the required description. The statute highlights six types of barriers that can impede equitable access or participation that you may address: gender, race, national origin, color, disability, or age. Based on local circumstances, you can determine whether these or other barriers may prevent your students, teachers, etc. from equitable access or participation.

Your description need not be lengthy; you may provide a clear and succinct description of how you plan to address those barriers that are applicable to your circumstances. In addition, the information may be provided in a single narrative, or, if appropriate, may be discussed in connection with related topics in the application.

Section 427 is not intended to duplicate the requirements of civil rights statutes, but rather to ensure that, in designing their projects, applicants for Federal funds address equity concerns that may affect the ability of certain potential beneficiaries to fully participate in the project and to achieve to high standards. Consistent with program requirements and its approved application, an applicant may use the Federal funds awarded to it to eliminate barriers it identifies.

What are Examples of How an Applicant Might Satisfy the Requirement of This Provision?

The following examples may help illustrate how an applicant may comply with section 427.

(1) An applicant that proposes to carry out an adult literacy project serving, among others, adults with limited English proficiency, might describe in its application how it intends to distribute a brochure about the proposed project to such potential participants in their native language.

(2) An applicant that proposes to develop instructional materials for classroom use might describe how it will make the materials available on audio tape or in braille for students who are blind.

(3) An applicant that proposes to carry out a model science program for secondary students and is concerned that girls may be less likely than boys to enroll in the course, might indicate how it intends to conduct "outreach" efforts to girls, to encourage their enrollment.

We recognize that many applicants may already be implementing effective steps to ensure equity of access and participation in their grant programs, and we appreciate your cooperation in responding to the requirements of this provision.
