SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: EPA's rule requiring submission of RMPs (61 FR 31668, June 20, 1996) provides that the Agency will provide information on the "method and format" for submission prior to June 21, 1999 (40 CFR 68.150(a)). The purpose of this notice is to provide that information.

The RMP*Submit User's Manual describes the "method" for RMP submissions to EPA. In brief, regulated sources should submit their RMP electronically on diskette to the EPA Reporting Center if they are able to do so. Those who are unable to submit on diskette may use the RMP paper form (provided in Appendix A of the User's Manual). If the paper form is used, an Electronic Waiver Form (Appendix B of the User's Manual) should also be completed.

The RMP ASCII File Format provides the "format" in which RMPs should be submitted to EPA. RMP*Submit™ (a free software program for submission) and the RMP paper form (for use with the electronic waiver form) are already in this format. If you are planning to use RMP*Submit or the RMP paper form, you do not need the RMP ASCII File Format. The purpose of the RMP ASCII File Format is to assist commercial software vendors who are creating RMP software products, so that their software will put RMPs into the proper format.

EPA recently promulgated a rule that made several changes to RMP data elements (63 FR 964, Jan. 6, 1999). The documents described in this notice include those changes to the RMP regulations. EPA's information collection request for the recent rule and the RMP submission documents was approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) on February 22, 1999. The information collection requirements covered by the request were assigned OMB control number 2050-0144. RMPs may now be submitted to EPA.

Dated: February 24, 1999.
