

administered the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Small Cities program in the State of New York since the inception of the State CDBG program. Forty-eight states administer their own State CDBG program. At the request of Governor George E. Pataki, New York, the Department has withdrawn the Notice of Funding Availability for Fiscal Year 2000 funding. The Department will continue to retain control of past grants and multi-year grants made prior to Fiscal Year 2000.

In response to requests from local officials throughout the State and concerns that the State may not immediately possess the expertise to manage the program, the Department had originally proposed a transition process designed to permit a smooth and orderly transfer of the program from HUD administration to State control. The proposed process would have allowed the HUD-administered competition to continue as outlined in the NOFA of November 8, 1999, while the State completed all necessary steps to administer the program effectively. HUD had recommended a transition process in order to avoid any disruption in funding to the grantees. New York officials, however, indicated they would prefer HUD to transfer the program without a transition process.

Therefore, through this Notice, HUD withdraws the NOFA inviting applications for the HUD-administered Small Cities program published on November 8, 1999.

Dated: March 6, 2000.

General Deputy Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Grand Bayou/GIWW Freshwater Diversion Project, was funded through the Coastal Wetlands Planning, Protection and Restoration Act on the Fifth Priority Project List. The project purpose is to reduce loss of coastal wetlands within the project area through increased introduction of freshwater from the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and by reducing canal-induced saltwater intrusion into the project area.

The proposed project would benefit about 42,690 acres of coastal wetlands by the enlargement of Bayou L'Eau Bleu to increase freshwater inflow. The preferred alternative includes water control structures. They would be installed on the Cutoff Canal, just below its junction with Bayou Pointe au Chien, and on the Island Road Borrow Canal, just west of Bayou Pointe au Chien. These water control structures would be operated to reduce canal-induced saltwater intrusion into project area wetlands.

Dated: March 2, 2000.

Availability of a Final Environmental Impact Statement for Grizzly Bear Recovery in the Bitterroot Ecosystem

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of availability of a Final Environmental Impact Statement for Grizzly Bear Recovery in the Bitterroot Ecosystem.

SUMMARY: This notice advises the public that the Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) for Grizzly Bear Recovery in the Bitterroot Ecosystem is available for public review. The FEIS evaluates a proposal to establish an experimental population rule and reintroduce grizzly bears into the Bitterroot Ecosystem in east-central Idaho and western Montana. Six alternatives, including the No Action Alternative, are discussed in the FEIS.

The Bitterroot Ecosystem consists of approximately 44,400 square miles in 10 central Idaho and four western Montana counties, of which 76 percent is in Federal surface ownership. A Citizen Management Committee would be tasked with management implementation responsibility for the experimental population.

Reintroduction could result in grizzly bear recovery in the Bitterroot Ecosystem in a minimum of 50 years. A recovered grizzly bear population (approximately 280 bears) potentially could kill an average of 6 cattle and 25 sheep and up to 504 wild ungulates per year. Nuisance bear incidents could average 37 per year. Economic analyses indicate grizzly bear recovery in the Bitterroot Ecosystem would lead to total economic benefits of approximately $40.4 to $60.6 million per year.

DATES: Copies of the FEIS will be mailed to government offices, local and regional libraries, and interested parties who specifically requested the FEIS. A Summary of the FEIS will be mailed to all parties on the mailing list who did not specifically request the entire FEIS. Those interested persons not on the FEIS mailing list may request a copy from the project leader at the address below. It is anticipated that the Environmental Protection Agency will publish a Notice of Availability for this FEIS in the Federal Register on March 24, 2000. Public comments will be accepted from March 24, 2000, through April 24, 2000. Public comment on the FEIS is solicited pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) regulations (40 CFR 1503.1). All agencies and individuals are urged to provide comments and suggestions regarding the FEIS for our review prior to completion of a Record of Decision. All comments received by the end of the comment period will be considered in preparation of the Record of Decision.

All comments received from individuals on our environmental impact statements become part of the official public record. Requests for such comments will be handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act and the Council on Environmental Quality's NEPA regulations [40 CFR 1506.6(f)]. When requested, comment letters with the names and addresses of the individuals who wrote the comments will generally be provided. However, the telephone number of the commenting individual will not be provided in response to such requests to the extent permissible by law. Individual respondents may request that we withhold their home address from the record, which we will honor to the extent allowable by law. If you wish to withhold your name and/or address, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comments.

ADDRESSES: Written comments should be addressed to Dr. Christopher Servheen, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Project Leader, Bitterroot Grizzly Bear FEIS, P.O. Box 5127, Missoula, Montana 59806. The document also is available for viewing and downloading at: <http://www.r6.fws.gov/endspp/grizzly/>. Written comments and materials regarding this information should be sent to the Recovery Coordinator at the address given above or can be mailed electronically to <FW6_grizzly@fws.gov>. Comments and materials received are available on request for public inspection, by appointment, during normal business hours at the above address.
