II. Did EPA Conditionally Approve the Application?

A conditional registration may be granted under section 3(c)(7)(C) of FIFRA for a new active ingredient where certain data are lacking, on condition that such data are received by the end of the conditional registration period and do not meet or exceed the risk criteria set forth in 40 CFR 154.7; that use of the pesticide during the conditional registration period will not cause unreasonable adverse effects; and that use of the pesticide is in the public interest. The Agency has considered the available data on the risks associated with the proposed use of mesotrione, and information on social, economic, and environmental benefits to be derived from such use. Specifically, the Agency has considered the nature and its pattern of use, application methods and rates, and level and extent of potential exposure. Based on these reviews, the Agency was able to make basic health and safety determinations which show that use of mesotrione during the period of conditional registration will not cause any unreasonable adverse effect on the environment, and that use of the pesticide is, in the public interest.

Consistent with section 3(c)(7)(C) of FIFRA, the Agency has determined that these conditional registrations are in the public interest. Use of the pesticides are of significance to the user community, and appropriate labeling, use directions, and other measures have been taken to ensure that use of the pesticides will not result in unreasonable adverse effects to man and the environment.

III. Conditionally Approved Registrations

Box 15458, Wilmington, DE 19850-5458 had submitted an application to register the pesticide product ZA1296 4-SC Herbicide containing [2-[4-(methylsulfonyl)-2-nitrobenzoyl]-1,3-cyclohexanedione at 40% an active ingredient not included in any previously registered product. Prior to conditional approval of this application, Zenaca Ag Products merged with Norvatis. Zenaca and Norvatis later formed Syngenta. The company file symbol was redesignated and the product name was changed.

The application was conditionally approved on June 4, 2001, for the product listed below:
