II. What Action is the Agency Taking?

EPA has assessed the risks of Ethyl Parathion, Phorate, Phosalone, and Temephos and reached a Reregistration Eligibility Decision (RED), an Interim Reregistration Eligibility Decision (IRED), or a Report on FQPA Tolerance Reassessment Progress and Interim Risk Management Decision (TRED) for each of these organophosphate pesticides.

1. Ethyl Parathion RED. All remaining uses of Ethyl Parathion are being voluntarily canceled and phased out during the next few years. Because no uses will remain, Ethyl Parathion will not be included in the cumulative assessment of the organophosphate pesticides.

2. Phorate IRED. With the adoption of additional risk mitigation measures, Phorate fits into its own risk cup; its individual, aggregate risks are within acceptable levels.

3. Phosalone TRED. With no U.S. registrations and import tolerances only, Phosalone fits into its own risk cup without additional risk mitigation.

4. Temephos RED. With risk mitigation measures adopted, Temephos is eligible for reregistration. Because it has no food uses or other uses that result in exposure to children, Temephos will not be included in the cumulative assessment of the organophosphate pesticides.

The risk management decision documents for ethyl parathion, phorate, phosalone, and temephos were made through the organophosphate pesticide pilot public participation process, which increases transparency and maximizes stakeholder involvement in EPA's development of risk assessments and risk management decisions. The pilot public participation process was developed as part of the EPA-USDA Tolerance Reassessment Advisory Committee (TRAC), which was established in April 1998, as a subcommittee under the auspices of EPA's National Advisory Council for Environmental Policy and Technology. A goal of the pilot public participation process is to find a more effective way for the public to participate at critical junctures in the Agency's development of organophosphate pesticide risk assessments and risk management decisions. EPA and USDA began implementing this pilot process in August 1998, to increase transparency and opportunities for stakeholder consultation.

EPA worked extensively with affected parties to reach the decisions presented in the risk management decision documents, which conclude the pilot public participation process for ethyl parathion, phorate, phosalone, and temephos. As part of the pilot public participation process, numerous opportunities for public comment were offered as these risk management decision documents were being developed. The ethyl parathion, phorate, phosalone, and temephos risk management decision documents therefore are issued in final, without a formal public comment period. The docket remains open, however, and any comments submitted in the future will be placed in the public docket.

The risk assessments for ethyl parathion, phorate, phosalone, and temephos were released to the public through the following notices published in the Federal Register:

1. Notices for ethyl parathion were published on January 15, 1999 (64 FR 2644) (FRL-6056-9) and March 1, 2000 (65 FR 11050) (FRL-6494-8).

2. Notices for phorate were published on August 12, 1998 (63 FR 43175) (FRL-6024-3) and September 1, 1999 (64 FR 47784) (FRL-6099-9).

3. Notices for phosalone were published on January 12, 2000 (65 FR 1867) (FRL-6486-9) and July 26, 2000 (65 FR 45982) (FRL-6737-3).

4. Notices for temephos were published on September 9, 1998 (63 FR 48213) (FRL-6030-2), December 18, 1998 (63 FR 70126) (FRL-6052-6), and October 6, 1999 (64 FR 54298) (FRL-6387-6).

EPA's next step under FQPA is to complete a cumulative risk assessment and risk management decision for the organophosphate pesticides, which share a common mechanism of toxicity. The interim risk management decision documents on phorate and phosalone cannot be considered final until this cumulative assessment is complete. The ethyl parathion and temephos REDs represent the Agency's final decisions for these pesticides under the organophosphate pesticide review process.

When the cumulative risk assessment for the organophosphate pesticides has been completed, EPA will issue its final tolerance reassessment decision for phorate and phosalone, and further risk mitigation measures may be needed.
