

Opportunity (N1-207-02-3, 4 items, 4 temporary items). Fair Housing Initiative Program grant application case files, which consist of such records as applications, payment schedules, statements of work, and related correspondence. Also included are electronic copies of records created using electronic mail and word processing.

13. Department of the Interior, U.S. Geological Survey (N1-57-02-1, 8 items, 8 temporary items). Records relating to agency Y2K activities, including the development of policies and plans and their implementation and the analysis of specific systems. Also included are electronic copies of records created using electronic mail and word processing.

14. Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration (N1-448-01-4, 78 items, 67 temporary items). Records of the Office of Management, Administration and Planning relating to such matters as management reviews, studies and initiatives, the implementation of plain language, continuity of Government, agency assistance to colleges, tort litigation reporting, the provision of data to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, financial accounting, strategic planning, and program evaluation. Also included are electronic copies of documents created using electronic mail and word processing. Most of the series included in this schedule were previously approved for disposal. This schedule shortens the retention periods for several of these series, including employee conduct investigations, files relating to financial management and chargebacks, and materials prepared in response to congressional inquiries. The disposition instructions for most of the other previously approved series in the schedule are unchanged but are included since the agency wishes all of the Office's records to be covered by a single schedule. Proposed for permanent retention for the first time are recordkeeping copies of biographical data concerning high level employees. Recordkeeping copies of such files as organization charts and reorganization studies, mission statements, records relating to legislation, briefing books, and press releases were previously approved as permanent.

15. National Credit Union Administration, Office of the Chief Information Officer (N1-413-02-2, 57 items, 55 temporary items). Electronic systems relating to credit union supervision, examination, and insurance activities. Included are inputs, outputs, system data, and the related documentation for systems containing information concerning such matters as the current status and history of active and inactive credit unions, member share and loan transactions, the identities of directors and other credit union officials, correspondence tracking within the agency's Office of Corporate Credit Unions, and insurance related services. Proposed for permanent retention are the electronic data and related documentation for one system that pertains to the annual examination of credit unions to evaluate their soundness.
