The written records of test results are made after testing and predicting the strength of a television station's signal. The R&O also endorsed a computer model to predict whether a household is likely to be able to receive a signal of the required strength.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

OMB Control No.: 3060–0126. Title: Section 73.1820, Station Log. Form No.: N/A.

Type of Review: Extension of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Business or other forprofit, and not-for-profit institutions. Number of Respondents: 15,122.

Estimated Time Per Response: 0.17 hours to 0.5 hours.

Frequency of Response:

Recordkeeping requirement.

Total Annual Burden: 15,326 hours. Total Annual Cost: N/A.

Needs and Uses: Section 73.1820 requires that each licensee of an AM, FM or TV broadcast station maintain a station log. Each entry must accurately reflect the station's operation. This log should reflect adjustments to operating parameters for AM stations with directional antennas without an approved sampling system; for all stations the actual time of any observation of extinguishment or improper operation of tower lights; and entry of each test of the Emergency Alert System (EAS) for commercial stations. The data is used by FCC staff in field investigations to assure that the licensee is operating in accordance with the technical requirements as specified in the FCC Rules and with the station authorization, and is taking reasonable measures to preclude interference to other stations. It is also used to verify that the EAS is operating properly.

OMB Control No.: 3060–0641. Title: Notification to File Progress Report.

Form No.: FCC Form 218–I.

Type of Review: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Business or other forprofit, and individuals or households.

Number of Respondents: 500. Estimated Time Per Response: 1 hour. Frequency of Response: On occasion reporting requirement.

Total Annual Burden: 500 hours. Total Annual Cost: N/A.

Needs and Uses: The data collected is used by Commission staff to determine whether the 218–219 MHz licensee (previously IVDS) is entitled to their authorization to operate. From this data, the Commission is able to confirm that the licensee has provided a showing of "substantial service" to the population or land area within 10 years of the license grant pursuant to 47 CFR 95.833. The data collected ensure licensees are making proper use of the spectrum.

OMB Control No.: 3060–0714. Title: Antenna Registration Number Required as Supplement to Application Forms.

Form No.: N/A.

Type of Review: Extension of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Individuals or households, business or other for-profit, not-for-profit institutions, state, local and tribal government, and federal government.

Number of Respondents: 516,000. Estimated Time Per Response: .084 hours (or five minutes).

Frequency of Response: On occasion reporting requirement.

Total Annual Burden: 43,344 hours. Total Annual Cost: N/A.

Needs and Uses: In July 1996, the antenna clearance procedures were replaced with a uniform registration procedure that applied to antenna structure owners. Structure owners receive an Antenna Structure Registration Number which is a unique number that identifies an antenna structure. Once obtained, this number must be used on all filings related to the antenna structure. Collecting the registration number enables the Commission to efficiently maintain a registration database, as well as process the applications without unnecessary delay related to antenna structure discrepancies. By entering the registration number in the database, the antenna clearance can immediately be validated for accuracy through the Universal Licensing System (ULS).
