

December and January. The Exchange also believes that its proposal is reasonable because it is not changing the thresholds to become eligible or the dollar value associated with the rebates and, moreover, by continuing to exclude odd lots from the calculation of average daily TCV, Members will be more likely to meet the minimum or higher tier thresholds for December and January, which will provide additional incentive to Members to increase their participation on the Exchange in order to meet the next tier. In addition, the Exchange believes that the proposed changes to fees are equitably allocated among Exchange constituents as the methodology for calculating ADV and TCV will apply equally to all Members.

Volume-based tiers such as the liquidity adding tiers maintained by the Exchange have been widely adopted in the equities markets, and are equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because they are open to all members on an equal basis and provide rebates that are reasonably related to the value to an exchange's market quality associated with higher levels of market activity, such as higher levels of liquidity provision and introduction of higher volumes of orders into the price and volume discovery process. Accordingly, the Exchange believes that the proposal is equitably allocated and not unfairly discriminatory because it is consistent with the overall goals of enhancing market quality.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The proposed changes will help the Exchange to continue to incentivize higher levels of liquidity at a tighter spread while providing more stable and predictable costs to its Members. As stated above, the Exchange notes that it operates in a highly competitive market in which market participants can readily direct order flow to competing venues if they deem fee structures to be unreasonable or excessive.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange has neither solicited nor received written comments on the proposed rule change.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

On November 26, 2013, we announced in the Federal Register that we were soliciting ideas and comments about the use of genetic information in the disability determination process via an online forum that would be open until December 26, 2013.<sup>1</sup> We have

decided to extend that deadline until January 16, 2014.

We would like the public's ideas and comments regarding how we should use genetic information within the disability decision process. Under our current, long-standing policy, we do not purchase genetic testing to evaluate disability. However, we do consider all evidence in the record, including genetic testing and other genetic medical evidence, when we make a determination or decision of whether you are disabled.<sup>2</sup>

We solicited the public's ideas and comments on the use of genetic information in order to obtain innovative ideas that we could use to improve the disability determination process. Your comments are important to us and we encourage you to share your ideas on any and all related issues. Some of the specific issues we would like information on include:

- What role should genetic specialists have in providing medical evidence?;
- Should we use direct-to-consumer genetic test results, and if so, how should we use those results?;
- How useful is genetic information in determining prognosis and progression of an impairment?;
- What role should genetic information have in the continuing disability review process?;

- Can we make determinations regarding known genetic conditions in the absence of genetic test results, and if so, how should we do so?;

- What privacy safeguards should we apply when we obtain and use genetic information?; and

- Are there any related issues that may inform our future policies?

How To Participate

The forum is open to all members of the public. To submit your ideas and comments, please go to <http://www.ssa-disabilityideas.ideascale.com> and go to the Campaign entitled "Genetic Information." You must register at the site before you are able to submit your ideas and comments. Although we will consider all of the ideas and comments we receive, we will not respond to them.
