

notices were open to comment and provided notice of this consolidation. DHS received no comments regarding the consolidation.

There are six additional routine uses applicable to this system as a result of this consolidation. Through the E-Authentication System of Records, DHS may share information to relying parties approved by the National Information Exchange Federation Trust Framework Provider for the purpose of providing federated access to systems when the user has been provided with appropriate notice and the opportunity to consent. Information may also be shared with international, federal, state and local, tribal, private or corporate entities for the purpose of the regular exchange of business contact information in order to facilitate collaboration for official business.

By the consolidation of the E-Verify Self Check System of Records into the E-Verify Program System of records, the following routine uses may apply to E-Verify Self Check: (1) To employers participating in the E-Verify program to verify the employment eligibility of their employees working in the United States; (2) to the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators Network and participating Motor Vehicle Agencies for the purpose of validating information for a driver's license, permit, or identification card issued by the Motor Vehicle Agency of states or jurisdictions who have signed a Memorandum of Agreement with DHS under the RIDE program; and (3) to the Department of Justice (DOJ) to responding to matters within the DOJ's jurisdiction of the E-Verify program, especially with respect to discrimination.

Both the E-Verify and E-Authentication Systems of Records permit sharing information with the news media or public, with the approval of the Chief Privacy Officer in consultation with counsel, when there exists a legitimate public interest in the disclosure of the information, when disclosure is necessary to preserve confidence in the integrity of DHS, or when disclosure is necessary to demonstrate the accountability of DHS's officers, employees, or individuals covered by the system, except to the extent the Chief Privacy Officer determines that release of the specific information in the context of a particular case would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

Consolidating and retiring this notice will promote the overall streamlining and management of DHS Privacy Act record systems.

Dated: October 2, 2014.

Karen L. Neuman,
Chief Privacy Officer, Department of Homeland Security.
